

Auto Mishaps Are Fatal To 10 In Michigan

Leap After Rabbit Kills Detroitier

(By The Associated Press)

Nine Michigan residents, seven of them Detroiters, died in week-end traffic accidents.

The state's violent death toll also included a three-year-old boy who was burned fatally.

He was David Roberts of Flint. The youngster died Saturday in Hurley hospital where his mother, Mrs. Marjorie Roberts, 48, and a 14-year-old sister, Marilyn, are in critical condition.

A wastebasket in their basement apartment caught fire Saturday and Mrs. Roberts' older son, Albert, mistook a pall of fuel oil for water and tossed it on the flames. The blaze then swept quickly through the family's living quarters.

An elderly man from Hubbell and a 19-year-old Zeeland youth were counted among the traffic victims.

Michael Gaffney, 72, was the victim of a hit-and-run car not far from his home Saturday night. Police are trying to trace the driver through glass from a broken headlight.

Husband's Jump Fatal

Harvey P. Pyle, the Zeeland youth, was killed early Sunday near Holland when the car in which he was riding went out of control while rounding a curve and rolled over several times.

The Detroit area traffic victims included:

Edward Paresien, 11, killed Sunday afternoon at Lasher Road and 12 mile when he dashed into the highway and ran into a car. Witnesses said the boy had been watching a neighbor train a dog and was crossing the street to get his bicycle.

George Waipon, 35, who died Saturday night of injuries suffered when he jumped from a moving taxicab. He had been arguing with his wife and she tossed a rabbit—intended for their Sunday dinner—out the cab window.

Waipon jumped out to retrieve it and his head struck the pavement. Then a car traveling in the opposite direction hit him.

Vice President To Wed Nov. 18

Barkley Wins Widow From St. Louis

St. Louis, Oct. 31 (AP)—Vice President Alben W. Barkley, who has scored many successes in a long political career, has also proved himself lucky in love.

Mrs. Carleton S. Hadley, the comely young widow whom he courted diligently for nearly four months, announced last night that the two would be married here Nov. 18.

The announcement was made informally in the presence of a few friends and newspapermen in Mrs. Hadley's apartment as the vice president stood by smiling.

Wedding details were not made public. Friends expected the ceremony would be a simple one and would be performed in one of the local Methodist churches. Both the 71-year-old Kentuckian and his 38-year-old bride-to-be are members of that faith.

The wedding announcement, set for 7 p. m., was delayed nearly thirty minutes while the vesp. as he likes to be called, put through a phone call to President Truman at Washington. The president seemed "pleased and happy" at the news, Barkley reported.

The former senator then turned to those present and said chivalrously: "The vice president yields—shall we say—to the senator from Missouri."

Mrs. Hadley, with eyes sparkling, said simply: "The vice president and I are going to be married on the 18th of November. The plans will be announced later."

ROBBERIES NET $5,000

Detroit (AP)—Ten weekend robberies netted safecrackers and hold-up men $5,000 in the Detroit area. The Michigan-Telegraph market in Dearborn was victim of the latest theft, $1,700 in cash and $2,100 in checks taken from the office safe. In Detroit, gift shop owner Thomas J. Watson told police robbers carried off his safe containing $500 in cash and eight blank check books.

Fans At MSC Stay Out All Night For Irish Game Tickets

East Lansing, Oct. 31 (AP)—A crowd of Michigan State college seniors, which grew to an estimated 3,500 by 8 a. m., kept a chilly all-night vigil for the opening of distribution of student tickets for the Michigan State-Notre Dame football game Saturday.

Campus police reported the crowd high spirited but well behaved.

Seniors exchange coupons for their tickets today, and the first in line get the best seats. It is the juniors' turn Tuesday, the sophomores' Wednesday and the freshmen's Thursday, so campus police expected a similar mob scene every night this week.

The seniors began to arrive at the Jensen fieldhouse door at 10

Factional War Rages In CIO

Purge Of Left-Winger Unions Demanded

By HAROLD W. WARD

Cleveland, Oct. 31 (AP)—The CIO opens its 11th convention today torn wide open by the worst factional war in its history.

Ouster of at least three unions under left-wing leadership was indicated, and a roaring right-wing majority, angered by pro-Communist efforts to bore into the CIO, clamored for the purge of a dozen unions by the end of the week.

President Philip Murray, with 45 years in labor unions behind him, was caught in one of the most trying dilemmas of his career: should he preside over the carving up of the mass-industry federation which he, John L. Lewis, Sidney Hillman and others created more than a dozen years ago?

The usually mild-mannered Murray seemed to have given his answer as he opened the convention with a blast at the "small but noisy clique" in the CIO he said was adhering to the Communist labor program.

"I want none of that," Murray said in a report to the 600 delegates. "The CIO wants none of that."

Casting out the 12 unions would not necessarily mean shearing off the nearly 1,000,000 members of those unions. Plans are ready to move in fast and set up rival right-wing units in the contested fields.

The action, if it actually occurs at the convention or just after the five-day convocation, will touch off drives to recapture the left-wing's rank and file membership for the CIO. That would be certain to be resisted—possibly by creation of a third labor federation, even though such a step is pooh-poohed by the left wing leaders now set up a large tarpaulin extending out from the doors.

The students brought coffee, lunches, apples, sleeping bags, blankets, tables and chairs, cards and fire-pots to tide them over the night.

Some split themselves into units which took turns guarding their place in line and sleeping.

Some student wives were in evidence to help with the vigil and a few babies slept peacefully through it all in their buggies.

The thermometer dipped to 38 around 7 a. m., but most of the students were well-prepared with warm clothing, blankets and sleeping bags.

Some fraternalities split the vigil among the members, sending four or five every few hours to hold a place in line for the whole group.

Some bridge and canasta games were kept going all night by hardy students who refused to sleep.

Campus police arrived at 6:45 a. m. and were greeted with wild cheers. They reported the line well-formed and restricted their activities to keeping an eye on the formation of possible bottle-necks in the line when it moved into the building.

Spooks Holding Parties Tonight

Mischief-Makers Are Kept Off Streets

(By The Associated Press)

Halloween goblins—mostly of the bobby sox variety—are being tamed in many Michigan cities.

Instead of zooming around, helter-skelter, on imaginary broomsticks, they're going to community parties.

Civic organizations are staging the big shindigs, hopeful of keeping young mischief-makers off the streets on All Hallow's Eve.

Harried housewives can even count on some relief from the usual hordes of trick or treaters.

In Grand Rapids, for instance, the Fraternal Order of Police is tossing 11 separate neighborhood parties now in their third year, the celebrations are credited with cutting home and store losses by thousands of dollars.

Plymouth found an answer to the soapy window problem by inviting the city's small fry in to decorate store windows just as they please. The results are amazing, recreation leaders say.

Kalamazoo is going Grand Rapids 13 better and is staging a total of 24 parties, all under the sponsorship of the recreation council.

In Detroit, the department of parks and recreation has a list of 47 parties, with 44 of the merry-making events being put on by the department itself.

The largest affair of all will be put on by Chene station police at the Ferry street market place. An estimated 5,000 shrieking junior size "spooks" will be on hand.

Break In Steel Strike Predicted For Today

Profits In U. S. Industry Turn Upward Again

Auto Earnings Jump As Oils Slump

(Copyright 1949 by the Associated Press)

New York, Oct. 31 (AP)—Profits of American industry turned upward in the third quarter of this year for the first time in 12 months.

They stand only slightly below the all-time high mark of a year ago, when third quarter earnings were the peak in the record year of 1948.

An unusual feature of the third quarter was the substantial increase in earnings of automobile companies which off-set a sharp decline in oil company profits.

The compilation by the Associated Press of earnings reports of 314 leading corporations in all major fields showed today a total net profit of $1,003,644,061 in the July-September quarter.

Rebound Confirmed

That is 4.3 per cent higher than the total of $962,102,819 reported by the same corporations in the second quarter of this year.

It is only 4.1 per cent lower than the $1,046,983,291 earned by these companies in the third quarter of 1948.

Corporate earnings slid lower in the final quarter of 1948 from their third quarter peak, and the decline continued in the first and second quarters of this year.

The upturn was not surprising to those who watched the recession of early 1949 give way gradually to an economic recovery around mid-year. The present profit trend confirms that rebound.

Largely responsible for the over-all good showing are the earnings of two automobile companies.

The increase in their earnings more than balanced the decline in

Unity Demanded In West Europe

Nations Are Warned To Speed Up Trade

By JOSEPH E. DYNAN

Paris, Oct. 31 (AP)—Paul G. Hoffman, Marshall Plan boss, warned western Europe today to speed results early next year in promoting free trade by knocking down national tariff barriers and erasing complex money controls.

He made it pretty plain it might be hard to get more aid funds from the U. S. Congress until the Marshall Plan countries showed more willingness to join in a single economic unit.

Goods in the big western European market, he said, must move freely across the many national boundaries—like trade between the 48 states of the U. S.

Failure to achieve economic unity, Hoffman warned, means "disaster for nations and poverty for peoples."

He made his call for concrete action by early next year in a prepared statement to the general council of the organization for European Economic Cooperation (OEEC), the European organization that helps administer the Marshall Plan.

Hoffman said the Marshall Plan countries have made "truly amazing progress" in restoring industrial and agricultural production in the last two years.

Stettinius, Former Secretary Of State Is Taken By Death

Greenwich, Conn., Oct. 31 (AP)—Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., wartime head of lend-lease and U. S. secretary of state when the United Nations came into being, died today at the age of 49.

The white-haired, handsome Stettinius, who at 37 became board chairman of the U. S. Steel Corporation, was his country's first U. N. delegate. He was named rector of the University of Virginia after leaving the U. N. post in 1946.

Death came at 7:30 a. m. (EST) at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Juan Trippe here. Mrs. Trippe is Stettinius' sister. Her husband is head of Pan-American Airlines.

A rich man's son, Stettinius went into government service and shortly became administrator of the $600,000,000 lend-lease program that played a major role in the final defeat of Nazi Germany.

The former cabinet member's secretary said members of the household found Stettinius unconscious in bed this morning. He died soon after a physician arrived at the house.

Stettinius had suffered from a heart condition since last spring, his secretary said, and had been convalescing here.

His wife and her mother, Mrs. W. J. Wallace, were with him when he died.

Stettinius started his industrial career with General Motors, becoming a vice-president in 1931. He went to U. S. Steel three years later and succeeded Myron C. Taylor as board chairman in 1938.

He did not hold the post long. President Roosevelt made him chairman of the war resources board the following year kept him in similar high posts in the face of charges by some new dealers that Stettinius was too "big business minded."

Stettinius was 43 when Roosevelt named him under secretary of state, a surprise appointment. He took over the top cabinet post a year later, becoming the second youngest secretary of State in American history.

Carrying on the work of his predecessor, Cordell Hull, Stettinius was permanent chairman of the Dumbarton Oaks Security conference that gave birth to the United Nations.

His labor policies won him many friends in organized labor and in the inner circles of the "New Deal" at Washington. However, he never was looked upon as a "New Dealer."

Three Chrysler Divisions Close

Steel Pinch Causes Shutdowns Friday

Detroit, Oct. 31 (AP)—The auto industry's first major shutdown resulting from the steel strike is set for Friday, when Chrysler Corp. plans to close three divisions indefinitely.

The move will throw a majority of 35,000 Detroit area Dodge, DeSoto and Chrysler plant employees out of work.

Chrysler officials said they hoped to maintain production of Dodge trucks until Nov. 11, and to keep assembly lines moving at the Plymouth plant "as close to Thanksgiving as possible."

The last of the dwindling steel supplies will go into Plymouth cars, the corporation said.

"After all our steel is gone, we won't be able to call our people back on any substantial basis for at least a month after the steel strike is settled," a spokesman added.

A few of the Dodge, DeSoto and Chrysler workers will be retained for inventory, parts and engine work.

The Ford Motor Co., also running short of steel, expects to start closing down its big Rouge plant Nov. 11.

"By Nov. 15, when the assembly lines there stop," reported Ford Vice President Ernest R. Breech, "we'll have 115,000 off the payroll."

General Motors Corp., third member of the automobile industry's "Big Three," already has closed a few of its plants temporarily for reallocation of steel supplies. Two Chevrolet and one Fisher body plant in Flint were affected by that move.

GM is expected to put some of its factories on a four-day week starting today.

Among other auto producers, Nash Motors announced Saturday it would suspend assembly of cars at its two main plants in Wisconsin about the middle of November because of the steel and coal stoppages.

Big Bethlehem Plant Grants Union Demands

Settlement In Coal Tieup Only Rumor

Washington, Oct. 31 (AP)—Steel industry sources said today a strike-ending agreement has been reached between Bethlehem Steel Corp. and the CIO Steelworkers union.

These sources said an announcement of the agreement will be made at Cleveland this afternoon (4 p. m., EST) by Philip Murray, head of the CIO and its striking steelworkers union.

They said a major feature of the agreement calls for expansion of the corporation's existing pension plan, with the employer still paying the entire cost of pensions.

(In Bethlehem, Pa., officials of Bethlehem Steel Corp., declined to confirm or deny reports that it was about to come to terms with the steelworkers union.)

Revitalized Michigan Young Democrats Back Gov. Williams' Planks

Benton Harbor, Mich., Oct. 31 (AP)—Governor Williams' legislative program today had the enthusiastic backing of the revitalized Young Democrats of Michigan.

At their first post-war convention here Saturday, the 260 Young Democrats adopted—without dissent—resolutions endorsing major planks in the governor's platform. They also elected Selig S. Harrison, Detroit newspaperman, as their state chairman, and named six other state and national officers.

The resolutions adopted favored a state housing program; called for a law permitting 18-year-olds to vote; backed a seal of quality program for Michigan farm products; supported the governor's request for an increased corporation tax; sought repeal of the Bonine-Tripp labor law; and asked for a state fair employment practices law.

Other officers chosen, besides Harrison, were Mrs. Ruth Walton, of Baroda, vice-chairman; George Giannaris, Lansing, treasurer; Anne D. Seeger, Detroit, national committeewoman, and Dan Middleton, Flint, national committeewoman.

The convention chairman was John Conley, University of Detroit law student; secretary was Adele Alkases of Grand Rapids, and Robert Dille, Grand Rapids, was parliamentarian.

In his keynote address to the convention, Williams called for party unity. He warned that the Democratic party was "peculiarly susceptible" to division, and termed it a "coalition of diverse elements."

Drive Gaining More Headway

Cleanup Date Is Set For Nov. 10

Community Chest solicitors are advised to complete their collections and return their envelopes to the campaign office by Nov. 10.

The initial reports from solicitors is encouraging, campaign officials have indicated. Particularly good response has been reported in the direct mail campaign.

The goal in the county is $17,000 of which $11,000 is expected to be raised in Escanaba.

Fair Finances In Good Shape

Board Has Meeting Here On Sunday

The financial report of the 1949 Upper Peninsula State Fair, presented to the fair board at a meeting here Sunday by Harry E. Keelne, state auditor, reveals a balance of $21,303 still remaining in the fair appropriation. Mr. Keelne reported that this includes $10,000 in extra grant for capital improvements and suggested that the board work on a balance of $11,303 for the remainder of the fiscal year. Secretary-Manager Harold Lindsay reported that the funds remaining are ample to maintain the fair activities for the balance of the fiscal year.

The financial report, which includes all payments through October 25, showed a decrease in revenues over 1948 of $5,115 and an increase in disbursements of $3,983.55. The drop in receipts largely was in ticket sales for admission to grounds, grandstand and parking privileges. The largest increase in expenditures was for prizes and premiums which were increased from $15,427 to $19,008.

Total receipts were $47,351.66 and general operating disbursements were $59,360.06. Under the state auditing and accounting system, however, disbursements are made from the state appropriation and all receipts are credited to the state general fund.

The state appropriation for general operating expenses was $68,100 and for grounds the appropriation was $33,630. A balance of $10,800.51 remains on the funds available for general operation and $11,503.02 remains in the fund for grounds.

At the meeting Sunday, Lindsay recommended to the board a revision in the entertainment schedule for 1950. He proposed that the revue be booked for the last four days of the fair instead of the first four as in the past and that stock car races be scheduled for Sunday afternoon with big car races for Thursday afternoon.

He also recommended the construction of a 14 x 14 extension to the model milk shed for new dairy equipment installation. The board approved the recommendation.

The dates for the 1950 fair were fixed at Aug. 15-20, which is the corresponding week in the 1950 calendar of the dates for the U. P. State Fair the past two years.

The secretary-manager and the senior member of the board, William Keil, of Wilson, were appointed to attend the convention of the International Fair Association in Chicago the latter part of November.

State Seeking Tree Nursery

May Acquire Plant At Manistique

The federal government's tree nursery at Manistique, closed since 1942, may be transferred to and operated by the state of Michigan, a project in which Gov. Williams is actively interested.

State Controller Robert F. Steadman visited the Manistique nursery on Saturday on an inspection in connection with the proposed transfer. He said that nursery, formerly operated by the U. S. Forest Service, would provide this area with tree seedlings that now must be transported here from the Higgins Lake state nursery in lower Michigan.

There are 100 acres in the Manistique tree nursery, of which 60 acres are clear and in seed beds ready for use. The beds have an overhead pipe system for irrigation.

It was reported that P. J. Hoffmaster, director of the department of conservation, agreed on the advantages of the Manistique nursery. Previously the department had considered expanding the nursery at Higgins Lake.

The cost to the state in the transfer and in resuming operations at Manistique nursery would come from the return of money to the state from the sale of timber cut on state-owned lands.

Winter Sports Are Expanding

New Developments Are Reported

Michigan is looking forward to the most successful winter sports season in its history, John Gray, publicity director of the Michigan Tourist Council of Lansing, said while in Escanaba today. He is making a tour of the Upper Peninsula to collect information on winter sports facilities and development plans.

"More persons are becoming winter sports conscious," Gray said. "Not many years ago only the kids went in for it; now, the adults are taking over."

Gray predicted the winter sports business will grow in Michigan, because of its rolling snow-covered hills, good highways and other facilities. At least 35 areas are now organized and equipped for winter sports programs in the state.

Marquette is providing a new skiing area two and a half miles south of the city, which will be equipped with a ski tow by January. At Iron Mountain, the ski tow is being extended from 1500 to 3000 feet. The Pine Mountain lodge is being expanded and meals will be served there during the season. Tourist courts will remain open during the winter season to accommodate visiting skiers. Gray said rates charged for accommodations in winter are generally lower than the summer schedule.

Nationwide Airlines is considering a plan to offer package tours to winter sports enthusiasts from Detroit and Lansing to the ski hills in the Upper Peninsula. The Greyhound Bus Lines also is planning to promote special tours.

State To Study Office Building Needs; Local Group To Consider Site

A survey of all Michigan departments and agencies to determine what should be included in plans for a proposed state office building in Escanaba was started today in Lansing by State Controller Robert F. Steadman.

Steadman returned to Lansing after meeting here Saturday with Escanaba representatives who are proposing that the state build or buy an office building here, with local cooperation.

Promising that the survey of state departments would be begun on Monday, Steadman assured the Escanaba group that his report should be ready soon, and suggested that another meeting be held in Escanaba about Dec. 1.

Pay $7,500 Rent
As an inducement to the state, John A. Lemmer of Escanaba, administrator of the estate of the late Mrs. Catherine Bonifas, pointed out that Mrs. Bonifas bequeathed $100,000 toward construction in Escanaba of an office building for state departments and agencies. The city, through Mayor Robert E. LeMire and City Manager A. V. Aronson, has offered to cooperate in providing city-owned land as a site for the proposed building.

Steadman said that before further consideration is given the offer of local cooperation, it will be necessary to know the needs of the state departments that would be served by an office building here.

Lawrence L. Farrell, executive secretary of Gov. Williams, who with Steadman conferred with local representatives on the proposed state office building, said there are now six offices for which the state is paying rental in Escanaba. The rental totals $7,500 a year.

The offices are those of the state highway department, liquor control commission, department of agriculture, social welfare department, Michigan unemployment service, and the Michigan license and enforcement division.

Farrell and Steadman said the state will weigh what it is now paying to house those agencies, with what it would pay under a new arrangement.

To Consider Sites
All state departments must be considered in planning such an arrangement, because there may be others that would be affected in the future. Steadman indicated that study would include a 10-year period, looking forward in an effort to determine what the state's office requirements will be, as well as what they now are.

At the meeting about Dec. 1, Steadman said the state and local representatives can discuss state needs as well as local building sites.

Meanwhile the Escanaba group will consider the advantages of the various sites that have already been suggested, and will be prepared to make a recommendation.

Should the project plans work out favorably, a request for an appropriation to finance the state's share of the cost would be included in the state's budget and submitted to the legislature in January. It was indicated that the legislature might favorably consider a plan in which the state's cost would not exceed $75,000—representing the present total rentals over a 10-year period.

Favorable action would make it possible for contracts to be let and construction to start next spring.

Profits Move Up For U. S. Industry

profits shown by the oil companies.

Chrysler and General Motors increased their earnings by more than $98,000,000 in the third quarter of this year over a year ago, while the earnings of 22 oil companies fell nearly $97,000,000 below the level of the third quarter of 1948.

Trade Slows Down
A comparison of the third quarter of this year with the previous quarter shows the two motormakers added more than $41,000,000 to their earnings, while the oil companies fell back by some $13,000,000.

Out of the 24 principal groups of companies, only seven showed increases in earnings in the third quarter over a year ago, but 14 of them increased their earnings in the third quarter over the second quarter.

Fourth quarter profit reports this year are so far a big question mark. The rise in activity after mid-year was choked off by the coal strike starting Sept. 19 and the steel strike starting Oct. 1. Industrial activity and retail and wholesale trade have slowed down markedly in the past few weeks, and continuation of the strikes undoubtedly will knock profits down.

How fast industry can snap back to normal when the strikes end, and how much it can pull on its reserves to cushion the shock of the loss, will determine fourth quarter profits.

Secret Broadcasts Sent By Inmate In Mississippi Prison

Houston, Tex., (AP)—A prisoner has been making secret radio broadcasts from the Mississippi state prison for four years, a federal communications official reported.

Joe McKinney, regional FCC manager, said three radio transmitters were located in the state prison at Parchman, Miss.

He said the transmitters were operated by William Frank Moody, serving a 50-year sentence for armed robbery.

McKinney said that for the past six months Moody had been using three transmitters in a campaign to secure an "indefinite suspension of sentence" from Mississippi Governor Fielding L. Wright.

One of Moody's transmitters was located in a prison guardhouse, and was accessible to Moody throughout the day, as a trustee on duty there.

Two transmitters were hidden in his prison bunk.

At the receiving end were persons at Pascagoula and Bucatunna, Miss., who in turn relayed information to Moody's wife to help her pleas for Moody's pardon.

"We had no idea whatever of Moody's radio activities until the federal men tipped us off three weeks ago," Superintendent M. E. Wiggins said. During a 20 day period, three FCC mobile units, five engineers and other officials scoured several hundred square miles of Mississippi to localize the stations and round up those involved.

Early in October two amateur radio operators, one in Arkansas, one in Tennessee, advised the FCC in Washington of strange broadcasts from Mississippi.

By use of its long-range direction finders Washington localized the unlicensed broadcasts to a 100 mile area. Then field crews were dispatched.

Recently federal men entered the trustees' cage of the prison at Parchman, Moody was summoned. "He saw the game was up," McKinney said, "grinned, and took us to his cot. After we had acquired the two transmitters there he took us to the little four by six guardhouse and pointed out the other one."

The FCC men had been monitoring Moody's daily broadcasts for three weeks.

Moody, now only 28, although he has been a prisoner ten years, had many privileges as a trustee. He was permitted to take correspondence courses in radio, and became the prison radio mechanic.

"He's a mighty smart fellow," Wiggins said. "We let him have various radio parts, as elements of his training, and he certainly made the most of them."

Public Safety Director Hired

Jack Koernke Takes Over Here Today

Jack Koernke, 30, of Ann Arbor, arrived today to assume duties as director of public safety for the City of Escanaba.

As director of public safety, Koernke will be in charge of the police and fire departments. The newly-created position has long been considered by city officials. The city council created the post when it approved the 1949-50 budget.

The new director studied police administration at Michigan State college, graduating in 1942, and subsequently served in the Army for three years. He served as captain of the military police in the U. S. Army in the North African division, as provost marshal in Algiers, Dakar and Casablanca and was in charge of summary and special court prisoners in the area west of Tripoli and North of Dakar.

For the past two and a half years he has been a special investigator for the Kaiser-Fraser corporation, investigating espionage, sabotage, theft and vice. In this capacity it was his job to gather evidence and present it in courts, in behalf of the automobile corporation, on all criminal matters.

Koernke is married and has a daughter 20 months old. Mrs. Koernke and child will remain in Ann Arbor until a home is found for them here.

Boston Commons in Boston is the oldest public park in the U. S. Women are not eligible for Rhodes Scholarships.

Recreation Council Elects Officers At Meeting In Lansing

Lansing, (AP)—The state inter-agency council on recreation Tuesday elected P. J. Hoffmaster, conservation department director, and Dr. Lee M. Thurston, state superintendent of public instruction, as co-chairmen.

Robert J. Furlong, secretary of the Michigan tourist council, was elected secretary of the group.

With the three officers, Dr. J. K. Altland of the department of health and Cas J. Wasung of the department of administration will serve on the executive committee.

The council decided to meet at least four times a year. It has been granted $7,700 annually for the next two years by the Kellogg foundation to hire a director and set up a permanent office. Applications for the directorship are being received.

Hoffmaster said the council's functions were to integrate the activities of the state agencies interested in recreation, to promote recreation on a state level, and to work with, but not supersede, local recreation agencies.

Fall Fish Spearing To Start Saturday In Upper Peninsula

Lansing, (AP)—A special fish spearing season starts Saturday in the Upper Peninsula and the northern lower peninsula and Nov. 1 in southern Michigan.

In specially designated lakes, fishermen may spear ciscoes, whitefish, suckers and carp.

The chief exception to the rule is that the season on Higgins Lake does not start until Nov. 1. The season ends in both peninsulas Dec. 31.

The season permits the harvesting of a fish crop which is not taken any other way.

The conservation department has added 14 new lakes in southern Michigan, half of them in Oakland county, to the list of spearing waters. This brings the specially designated lakes to 106 in 28 counties.

In China the first course at dinner is the desert.

Three Overcome By Gas Fumes

Reginald Pirons Taken To Hospital

Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Pirons of 311 North 12th street and their 17-month-old daughter Virginia, were taken to St. Francis hospital by ambulance at 5:50 this morning for treatment of carbon monoxide poisoning.

Fumes from a coal-burning stove in the home overcame the baby early this morning. The father ran next door, to the Hubert Roberts home, to summon a doctor. After the physician arrived, both the mother and father were overcome and became unconscious.

All three are "getting along all right," it was reported this morning by the attending physician, and they are in "fair" condition.

Members of the Escanaba fire department and the police department were summoned to assist Jack Bawden and members of the city gas utility staff investigated gas lines and the gas stove in the Pirons home, to determine if gas fumes other than from the stove had affected the family. All gas lines and connections were in good order, they reported.

Nehru Shopping Short Of Cash

India Prime Minister Hunts Prosperity

By G. Milton Kelly
San Francisco, Oct. 31 (AP)—Window shopping in a land of plenty with a very thin international pocketbook. That's about the position of India's Prime Minister, Jawaharlal Nehru, on his tour of the United States. India is rich in rupees, Britain owes her a fortune in pounds sterling, but she is short of dollar credits.

Nehru has more than one thing in mind. He is appraising the American standard of prosperity, and probably judging how much of it would be practicable and desirable for his country. His tour brought him here last night for a three day visit.

The Indian statesman is a bit paternal in his love of India and his people. He sees no reason why they should not be entitled to the best. He has experienced, now, the bounty that Americans enjoy. There can be little doubt that he will go home grimly determined that if Indians work for it, they can build a comparable economy—and that they shall work for it.

He has seen shops filled with goods and finery that would amaze the patrons of an Indian bazaar.

He commented wistfully at one point of the trip that Americans have so much they can afford to waste food. Food is the crying need of his people, who live in the constant shadow of famine. They don't waste food there.

Rothschild Is Hurt; Struck On Head By Rock During Brawl

Gladstone—Melvin Rothschild, 26, of 615 North Tenth street, Gladstone, is receiving treatment today in St. Francis hospital for head injuries sustained early Sunday morning when he was struck on the head by a rock hurled during a brawl.

Gladstone city police reported that a fight was being waged in the street between Rothschild and Stanley Mosier of Rapid River when Rothschild was injured about 2:15 a. m. Sunday. The brawl took place in front of the Arcadia Inn.

Rothschild was unconscious when taken to the hospital and today was to be given x-ray examination.

Potato Producers Show Achievements

FOR the first time in Michigan, a potato producer has brought a yield of more than 1,000 bushels per acre. The new champion is Paul Van Damme and although geographically he is not a resident of Delta county—his farm is located in Marquette county just beyond the Delta county line—his achievement can be accredited to the Escanaba Potato Boosters association. Paul Van Damme this year produced the amazing total of 1,034 bushels of potatoes per acre, competing in the tablestock division of the Delta county potato show, sponsored by the Escanaba Potato Boosters association.

The certified seed championship was won by Frank Falkeis, of Baldwin township, two time winner of the state potato growing championship and former record holder. Falkeis produced 748 bushels of certified seed potatoes per acre. His previous state record, bettered by Paul Van Damme this year, was 847 bushels per acre. In the certified seed and tablestock divisions combined, one producer, the champion Paul Van Damme, yielded over 1,000 bpa; two growers yielded over 700 bpa; six yielded over 600 bpa; eight produced yields of 500 bpa or more. And in addition, the 4-H club owners, including one of 602 bushels per acre, and another of 572 bushels per acre. All of these great yields were produced without benefit of irrigation.

The Escanaba Potato Boosters association and, of course, the farmers particularly, have ample cause to be proud of the exceptionally fine records in quality potato production. The greatest measure of pride develops from the year to year record of improvement.

State Building In Escanaba Studied

THE establishment of a state office building in Escanaba, envisioned by the late Mrs. Catherine Bonifas who bequeathed $100,000 for that purpose, may become a reality in the near future. State Controller Robert Steadman conferred in Escanaba Saturday with local residents interested in such a project.

The State of Michigan now rents space here for the Upper Peninsula branches of the Liquor Control Commission and for the State Highway Department as well as four other state offices. It has been proposed that the state buy or build a suitable building in Escanaba to house its several branch offices. Enthusiasm for such a project, of course, is considerably enhanced by the bequest of Mrs. Bonifas.

That the state is more than casually interested in such a project is indicated by Controller Steadman's visit to Escanaba and by the attitude indicated from time to time by other state officials.

Actual materialization of a state-owned office building in Escanaba will depend, of course, upon the state legislature, inasmuch as such a project presumably would necessitate legislative appropriations to supplement the funds available from Mrs. Bonifas' gift.

Centrally located in the Upper Peninsula—Escanaba is the logical site for a state-owned headquarters building for the various peninsula branches of state departments.

Traffic Signal Revision Needed

MOVING the traffic lights at Ludington and 11th streets and Ludington and 14th streets to positions of better visibility has met with popular approval by local motorists. The lights have been extended through the use of arms attached to the light poles with the result that the signals no longer are lost in the background of neon signs as they previously were.

The change brings into public focus once more the question of the necessity of maintaining the red and green signals at Ludington and 11th streets beyond the hours when local stores are open. The 11th street light is properly a pedestrian signal. That is, the function of the control signals at that intersection primarily is to provide cross-street safety for pedestrians at the busiest intersection in the business area. The signals are justified at that location for pedestrian safety only.

In view of that circumstance, we have frequently questioned the purpose of maintaining the red and green signals at Ludington and 11th street in the evening hours and on Sundays after the stores are closed and when pedestrian traffic is extremely light. Police records show graphically that many minor accidents have occurred at these intersections, particularly in winter months when streets are slippery.

Further, the traffic signals at the 11th and 14th street intersections should properly be coordinated so that the timing does not require Ludington street traffic to stop at both intersections. This could be regulated merely by synchronizing the lights and establishing a green signal of sufficient duration to permit a car travelling at miles per hour to traverse the three blocks intervening between the two sets of traffic signals. This simple correction would reduce the number of accidents at these intersections and avoid the nuisance of double stops. It would not adversely affect cross-street traffic, auto or pedestrian, at either intersection.

Denfeld's Removal Raises Storm

THE removal of Admiral Louis Denfeld as chief of naval operations has brought forth a storm of protests, particularly from staunch navy supporters who are aligned with Denfeld in opposition to the military unification law. The first reaction has been clamors for the resignation of Secretary of the Navy Matthews, who forced the removal of Admiral Denfeld as the top naval officer.

Charges have been hurled that Denfeld's removal is a doublecross, that promises were implied that there would be no re-creation against witnesses who testified frankly before the house armed forces committee. That is an important aspect of the present situation. The important thing is that Admiral Denfeld, by his own testimony, showed conclusively that he is a disbeliever in military unification. As chief of naval operations, it was his duty to help make the unification law work. Refusal to do so constitutes insubordination as much as any refusal to accept and obey orders issued by the commander in chief.

For that reason, President Truman had no choice except to remove Admiral Denfeld from his command. It is impossible to achieve military unification if the chief of naval operations refuses to cooperate.

The unification law is the established policy of the United States government. It was adopted after a thorough study of the military problem and it has been approved by a majority of the American people. Unification has already made possible a tremendous savings in military costs. Unification does not presume, as Admiral Denfeld apparently believes, a scuttling of the navy or any particular branch of the service.

On the contrary, it is designed to unite all military services into a single team for the defense and welfare of the American people.

THIS SENSELESS BUSINESS (Wall Street Journal)

This country, says Atomic Energy Commission Chairman Lillenthal, "should stop this senseless business" of choking itself with extremes of atomic secrecy. Extremes, he adds, "that impede our own technical progress and our own defense."

Such an attitude, as this newspaper has for a long time maintained, is merely common sense. It was so before the news of the Russian atomic explosion; it is infinitely more so after, for the effect of secrecy now is to keep from our own people what our potential enemy already knows.

It is encouraging, there, to hear such talk from the man responsible for the atomic program. But it would have been a lot more encouraging if Mr. Lillenthal had announced some intention of pressing for a change in government policy. In the past Mr. Lillenthal has also intimated dissatisfaction with that secretive policy, yet no visible effort was made to do anything about it.

What needs to be changed is not secrecy but also its twin evil, government monopoly of atomic energy. It is perhaps not up to Mr. Lillenthal to recommend such de-control of the atom, but it is significant that he appears to assume continuation of that control.

Thus he speaks of working out a broader area of atomic cooperation with Britain and Canada. If that means transmitting atomic information to them, of course it should be done. Such information should also be given to all our other allies. But not through talks "at government level." The talks that are needed are not official ones. They are the ones involved in the free exchange of information by scientists, in the free competition of free industries.

That is what is needed, that is, if atomic energy is ever going to be of use to anybody.

Mr. Lillenthal has performed a useful service in pointing out the senselessness of secrecy. Unfortunately that is not enough.

Swedish Reform Is Never Hasty

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Stockholm, Sweden.—The stream of students, professors, congressmen and just plain citizens who come here to look into Sweden's elaborate system of social reform are almost all impressed by at least one fact. That is the lengthy experimentation and study that have preceded most of the reforms making up the Swedish welfare program.

The government recently pushed through a compulsory health insurance system which will go into effect in 1951. But this step was taken against a background of voluntary health insurance and state-subsidized medicine that goes back 300 years.

Voluntary insurance societies, supported by government subsidies, had developed so that they include more than 60 per cent of the population in a single government-sponsored system. This was not, however, considered adequate since it did not cover the lower-income groups.

SOCIALIZED HEALTH

What the new law had done is to expand the voluntary system to cover the whole population. About $5 a year will be added to each taxpayer's tax bill for health insurance and this will meet about a third of the cost. The balance will come out of general tax revenue.

While there was strong opposition to making the system compulsory, especially from the doctors, the decision was not taken entirely on party lines. Even some conservatives recognized that a drastic step was necessary to raise the level of medical care. The number of doctors in proportion to the population is considerably lower here than it is in America.

For many years children in all Swedish schools have received free medical examinations and a large measure of free medical care. This has been true both in the city and the country.

Hospital care has long been subsidized by municipalities, counties and to some extent by the central government. At Stockholm's handsome new 1,200-bed hospital the patient pays about 80 cents a day and this covers medicines, X-ray, everything. The actual cost is $5.60 a day and the difference is made up by the public subsidy.

Likewise in Norway a voluntary health insurance plan in force since 1911 has gradually evolved to cover an ever greater number of persons. Now it is to be extended to cover the whole population. In Norway the individual pays six-elevenths of the cost of the scheme, the employer two-elevenths, the municipality one-eleventh and the central government two-elevenths.

The contrast with the United States does not need much pointing up. Because of the persistent and prolonged opposition to voluntary health insurance, we have had very little experience in this field. That means it would be all the more difficult in America, with its wide differences of geography and custom, to impose a uniform compulsory system.

FREE DRUGS COSTLY

In Scandinavia they have learned through experimentation something that the British are discovering in the most costly fashion. To give drugs entirely free under a health insurance system is to risk bankrupting the system. They tried it in Norway and the cost skyrocketed.

Similarly, experience here has indicated that you are asking too much of human nature if you make the service of the doctor entirely free. Experience has shown that if the individual pays half of the cost of the first visit to a doctor and perhaps a fraction of the cost of the second and third visits, there will be fewer abuses.

In Norway they have tried hard to preserve the doctor-patient relationship within the impersonality of an insurance scheme. Thus the patient selects his own physician and pays the doctor the fee. He is later reimbursed by the insurance system.

Reforms here in this northern welfare zone often seem radical, but they can almost always be traced to carefully calculated social policy. Every mother in Sweden is paid $50 a year for every child under 16 years of age. Most mothers and children are given vacation allowances by the state. Such laws have their origin in the fact that before the war Sweden's birth rate was declining so rapidly there would soon be too few people to carry on in a country of this size.

Most of the opposition is on the score of cost, and that is particularly true, as in America, of the compulsory health insurance plan. The powerful employers' organization charged that the government had failed to make anything like an accurate calculation of the cost of the scheme. But here they can at least come closer to knowing the cost, since for so long they have been experimenting with ways and means for curing the ills that beset human society.

mock its security." That the right word is flout will be seen by these definitions: Flaunt, "to make gaudy display; to parade ostentatiously," as the peacock flaunts its beautiful plumage. Pronounce it: flawnt.

Flout, "to mock; to scoff at; to jeer insultingly," as, they flout the law and mock its security. Flout, by the way, is from the Middle English flouten, "to play the flute in a mocking or jeering manner." Flout rhymes with lout.

Peasant and pheasant are frequently confused. Peasant, from the Old French paisant, from the Latin pagus, "country district," means, "a tiller of the soil; a rustic." The term peasant for "farmer" does not occur in American usage except in designating European peasants. The pronunciation is: PEZZ-nt.

Pheasant designates any of various brilliantly plumed, long-tailed birds of the genus Phasianus, named for Phasis, a river in Chochis. Pheasant is pronounced: FEZZ-nt.

The troublesome who-whom construction is discussed in great detail in Mr. Colby's leaflet, C-24, which also gives simple rules for using the pronouns. For a copy, send 5c in coin, and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Frank Colby, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Shine On, Shine On, Harvest Moon

Good Evening By Clint Dunathan

NIGHT FOOTBALL—As a subject for discussion, night football is probably one of the most delicate to be found at this time in the city of Escanaba.

Walk into any gathering, yell "night football!" and run—or get drawn into one of the most heated arguments you have ever encountered.

There are only two sides to the night football question: Pro and Con. A neutral is as good as dead. Every man, woman and child must stand up and be counted or go someplace in a dark corner and play tiddly-winks.

In the arguments on night football you will hear (may have already heard) some of the most astounding statements ever presented outside of the Congressional Record. The deep thinkers are at work, the battle lines are drawn, and Pro and Con armies are likely to line up almost any morning as the sun peeps over Stonington Peninsula to light the Escanaba high school athletic field.

LIGHT THE FIELD—For some, the only light that will ever touch the athletic field is the natural light of the sun; for others, no football game will hereafter be played in Escanaba except under the glare of incandescents.

There is no middle ground in this battle—however much some people might like to see compromise rather than the flow of hot words and the splash of printer's ink.

For no compromise seems possible. The pro-light group, both here and in other communities, demand lights; the no-lights group not only does not want a lighted field in Escanaba, but they would like to have all out-of-town night games cancelled.

DON'T LIGHT IT!—Slow in getting under way, the opponents of night football have recently come strongly to the fore in their arguments against playing high school football games under lights.

Now as they rally their forces you hear murmurs that the problem is bigger than Escanaba; that it includes the Upper Peninsula area; that meetings to bring a halt to night football are being eagerly awaited in other U. P. communities. All that is lacking is unity among the ranks of the no-lights groups to apply pressure where it is needed—and night football (at least in the Upper Peninsula) will be played no more.

This group presents numerous arguments to support its position. We will give none of them here, for it is not our intention to sway your thinking one way or another.

INFORMATION—The Escanaba board of education, five men and a woman, are as much concerned about the night football controversy as you are. Perhaps more so, for they must make a decision—and whatever that decision is, it will not receive unanimous approval from the people of Escanaba.

If the board decides to light the field, the opponents of night football will be angry; if the board decides not to light the field, the proponents of night football will raise a hue and cry.

In an effort to make a wise and just decision the board has conducted opinion polls among the student body, the parents, and the football fans. The results of the poll will be advisory only, the board emphasizes. The poll figures will be only a part of all the factors to be considered by the board in arriving at a decision.

NOT NEW—The controversy is not new. It dates back at least a couple of years. But when the school board announced that polls were to be conducted to sample public opinion, the question became hot.

Last year the board of education made an effort to have all of the Escanaba football games, both away and at home, played during daylight hours. They had permitted the Escanaba team to play some night games out of town the year before. They did not want to continue it, apparently, of the opinion that if day games were satisfactory at home they could also be arranged in other communities where Escanaba plays.

They found out otherwise. Those schools that had lighted their fields told Escanaba, in effect, "Play us at night or forget about playing us at all."

To maintain its schedule of games, Escanaba found that it had to play most of its out-of-town games at night.

THE SITUATION—Today Escanaba high school football is torn between two factions: The night football proponents and opponents. It is a situation that has aroused renewed interest in the school's athletic program. It has opened to examination and to question some of the educational policies of the board, and has resulted in public debate that is more helpful than harmful.

The position of the school board is not enviable. The decision it will make will not be easy, but will come only after careful consideration. And in this changing world it is entirely possible that decision cannot be called final.

Night Football

Editor of Escanaba Daily Press Dear Sir:

Our high school stadium is beautifully situated for daytime games. The background of Bay De Noc, and the green pines add to the spectacle of our football games.

The average temperature on a sunny October afternoon is 53 to 64 degrees. The evening of the same day, the temperature falls to between 44 and 36 degrees. Football is more enjoyable to witness when you are comfortable.

Why deprive hundreds of grade school youngsters the privilege of attending high school football games because of the cold weather and the late hour that night games would be concluded?

Most industries in Escanaba are on a five day week. Offices close by Saturday noon. Employees engaged in the retail or service business can not attend Saturday afternoon games, nor could they attend the games if they were held on Friday night.

The stadium was filled to capacity for the Menominee game, and will be filled again for the Gladstone game. To obtain funds for the electrical equipment, at least 1500 seats should be added. These will cost $18,000. The best light equipment from Westinghouse or General Electric would cost $15,000. The parking grounds should be illuminated. This totals $35,000. If the 1500 seats were filled for three games, the increased income would be $2250.

Assuming a life of 40 years for the lights, and additional seats, depreciation, maintenance, and insurance would cost about $1200 a year. There would only be a $1000 to liquidate the investment. It would take 35 years just to pay for the equipment.

Let's leave our high school athletics alone. The game belongs to the students, and should not be commercialized.

An Interested Citizen.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington.—Last week this column told how various big-shot tax evaders managed to delay or squirm out of criminal tax-fraud prosecution, sometimes because of leniency on the part of politically minded or easygoing U. S. attorneys.

It was pointed out that U. S. attorneys are appointed on the recommendation of senators or congressmen, and sometimes appear to work more for the senators than for the justice department.

In contrast to the smooth sailing enjoyed by some big-shot tax-evaders, here is what happened recently to a little fellow who got into a misunderstanding over his taxes. This taxpayer, Francis J. Massey of 220 2nd street, Washington, a displaced government war worker, found a job after the war as a warehouse worker for Lansburgh and Brothers, a Washington department store.

In 1948 treasury agents checked Mr. Massey's tax returns for the war years and found proper returns had been filed and taxes paid. Then suddenly it was discovered that a Frank J. Massey had received $150 in dividends from stock owned in the Washington Gas Light Co., and the treasury promptly assessed Francis J. Massey additional taxes.

LIEN ON $28 SALARY

Actually, Francis J. Massey never owned the stock and never received any dividends. It belonged to his father, now deceased. Edward T. Stafford, secretary of the Washington Gas Light Co., certified that Francis J. Massey never owned the stock and never received the dividends owed to his father, but this made no difference to the U. S. treasury.

It demanded that he pay just the same. Mr. Massey's salary was only $28 a week, and he had a wife and two small children to support. But, under protest, he paid in small dribbles of $2 a week up to a total of $18.92. This, however, wasn't fast enough for the treasury and it slapped a tax lien on his salary for the remaining $15.50.

This got him into trouble with his employer who did not want to be suspected of harboring a tax dodger and he was fired. Thus, unable to get a recommendation from his last employer—except with a tax dodging record—Massey was unable to find full-time employment. His youngest child became ill, the family doctor had not been paid for past services and would not come when urgently needed. The child died and was buried in Potter's field at government expense.

This burial expense probably about equaled the improper tax assessment of $34.51 wrung from Mr. Massey. So, in the end, the treasury department gained nothing.

Finally the office of Deputy Collector J. Ellis Bowen apologized for the mistake, which they said was made in Baltimore. "We promise it won't happen again," Massey was told. "If you are assessed again, just ignore it."

That's the experience of one little taxpayer who had no money to hire lawyers.

ECHOES OF TEAPOT DOME

On the other hand, here is the experience of a man who had the money to hire lawyers and to live in luxury abroad—one Heiry K. Blackmer, multimillionaire oilman who fled to France to escape being questioned in the Teapot Dome scandal.

Some of the others who remained in the United States went to jail for their connection with Teapot Dome and the Continental Trading company. Albert Fall, secretary of the interior in the Harding cabinet, served his sentence. Harry Sinclair served time for refusing to answer the questions of the senate committee. But Blackmer ducked for France, later was indicted on six counts for perjury and tax evasion to the tune of about $2,000,000.

Blackmer, then president of the Midwest Refining Co., together with Sinclair and Robert Stewart of Standard Oil, formed the Continental Trading company which purchased about 7,000,000 barrels of oil for $1.50 a barrel and then sold it to their own companies for $1.75. Sinclair used $230,000 of the profits from this deal to bribe Secretary Fall. Another $180,000 of profits went to the Republican national committee in the form of Liberty Bonds, and the committee tried to get high-ranking Republicans to exchange the bonds for cash. Andrew Mellon was sent $50,000 of the bonds, but sent them back, accompanied by a gift of $50,000 in cash.

Blackmer's share of the hoozie was found in the form of $750,000 in Liberty Bonds in a New York strongbox after he had fled to France.

The government made various efforts to bring Blackmer home, but the French government refused to extradite him and he remained there, living in the lap of luxury for 25 years, thumbing his nose at the nation which had made him rich and which he had cheated.

Last summer, Danny Sullivan, former G. O. P. Colorado politician who dug up the income-tax evidence against Blackmer, told friends in Washington:

"Henry Blackmer will never come back to this country while I'm alive."

BLACKMER BACK IN U. S.

Sullivan died shortly thereafter, and almost immediately Blackmer's lawyers arranged to bring him back—reportedly with an understanding that he would escape a jail sentence. Now 80 years old, but in excellent spirits and good health, Blackmer flew back on a Stratoliner.

Blackmer has powerful friends in the U. S. A., among them G. O. P. Senator Millikin of Colorado, who was a partner in the law firm that originally handled Blackmer's affairs. Millikin, despite a difference in politics, is close to ex-Senator Ed Johnson, Colorado Democrat, who recommended the appointment of the U. S. attorney in Denver, Max Bulkeley.

Suckers Are Paying Through The Nose

By ROBERT C. RUARK

New York—I was not running around this wicked city in the 20's, and so cannot tell you at first hand whether they were as tumultuous as claimed, but I certainly do not believe the jazz decade had any corner on exploitation of the willing sucker.

The older boys gather round the bar at tea-time to tell you about Texas Guinan's raucous welcome of the suckers, and they speak with real nostalgia of the sheep-dip they drank at Mike's and the vintage varnish they consumed at Pete's, and they brag about all the money they had to spend in a blind search of fun. This would almost lead you to believe that the chump had vanished from the land, or at least had dwindled to a rare few.

Show Tickets at $50

I toss this in as a preface to the fact that tickets for the musical "South Pacific," are scalping at $50 each—each, not the pair—and finding all the takers necessary to keep the house packed. One hundred clams, for an evening's entertainment for a man and his mouse, it seems to me, is ample evidence that the Guinan alumni were pretty mild plungers in the stupidity league.

There is a club called Stork in New York which has a small back room called Cub. In this room are seats, tables, waiters and ashtrays. Sometimes celebrities sit at the tables, sometime not. The room offers no music or entertainment. It offers top prices for good food and drink. It is filled nightly with people who are willing to pay these prices in order to look at each other. Very often they do not even drink hard liquor, and just as often they do not speak to each other. They just sit there and make Mr. Billingsley richer.

There is a dance palace called El Morocco in New York. It has a dance floor and tables and zebra-skin divans and prices. Yes, sir, it sure has prices.

People who do not dance come to El Morocco and sit. Quite often stag gentlemen will drop in to look. Humphrey Bogart once came in with a gentleman friend and two stuffed pandas. There are two sides to the dance floor, each equally close to the orchestra. Yet the steady patrons would drop dead of shame if they were put on the far side of the floor. This I cannot understand.

"21" Club

There is a restaurant in New York called "21," another home of the rich and famous. It has three downstairs rooms. The food and service and prices are the same in all three rooms. There are patrons who would commit suicide if they were demoted from the first room to the second or third. People in the third room hope to work their way up to the second, and some day—some misty happy future day, even to the first room.

In many hotels the drinks are short and a slight slug ruins a dollar permanently. A decent steak leaves just enough left from $5 to earn you a sneer from the waiter if you leave it as a tip. In many of the snootier deadfalls impoliteness is practiced habitually by the employees, and the customers soak it up gratefully.

Racetracks play to capacity all over the land, and there are more bookmakers than press agents in New York alone. The fancy dressmakers start their skimpy frocks at $500, and a dame who spends less than 10 grand on a mink coat is sneered at as a social pretender.

Sucker propositions in oil fields run wild today; stock swindles are still a going proposition. Some of the operations involve the government. Preston Tucker borrowed millions from that chump, Uncle Sam, to produce cars that never got built. The happy family of nations has Uncle over the barrel for billions that will never fly home.

It is my contention that there are more suckers around than ever before, bigger suckers, easier suckers, and suckers who rush about crying to be clipped. Some of them do not even enjoy what they are willing to be sheared for, which is the ultimate in suckering.

I applaud the shearers of the sheep, and wish them well with their $50 theater tickets, horse books and caste systems which the customer creates for himself. It's a shame old Texas Guinan isn't around today, to gather her share of the loot.

Spence-Werley

Chatham, Mich.—Mr. and Mrs. William Spence of Chatham announce the marriage of their daughter, Ethel Corinne to Marion Hardy Werley of Hollywood, Calif. son of Mr. and Mrs. V. M. Werley of Fort Smith, Arkansas, on September 24 at Las Vegas, Nevada.

The bride is a graduate of Rock River high school at Eben, class of 1940. She attended Wayne University following her graduation from high school and was graduated from the Hurley Hospital School of Nursing in June 1945. In 1946 she went to California and has been employed in nursing there.

The groom was enlisted in the U. S. Navy from 1942-1946. Following his honorable discharge he was employed as an electrician by the Pacific Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co. of Hollywood.

What Has Become Of Old Halloween?

By HAL BOYLE

New York, (AP)—What ever happened to the oldtime Halloween? They've reformed that dear black-caped witch of our youth. They've taken away her broomstick—the fastest thing known in the pre-jet age—and sent her to the dentist to have her snaggle teeth replaced by a set of plastic upper and lower plates.

Why, today you can hardly tell her from grandma. And I think that is a sad thing—they are confusing Halloween with Christmas. And it isn't fair to the kids the way grownups are taking this wonderful evening away from them, and taming it.

The real Halloween came from the forest. In olden druidic days it was the night when Saman, lord of death, held carnival. Good people built huge bonfires on the highest hills to ward off the legions of evil that winged through the darkness on black wings.

Civilization gradually married Halloween to the Christian festival of All Saints' Day and the Roman festival honoring Pomona, the goddess of fruit trees. When the children duck for apples now, it's in memory of forgotten Pomona.

HAL BOYLE

But as the ancient terror fell away from Halloween and people began to lose their belief in witches, the kids joyously took the festival over from the adults. And they kept some of the old woodland awe.

One Night In 365

They identified themselves with the naughty spirits. It was the one evening out of 365 when they could make a rebellion against the commonplace—and try to scare the grownups, or at least annoy them.

It was a fine thing a generation ago, and I suppose it still is in many places. We had our apple bobbing parties, then as now. But the real delicious pleasure was to be allowed to stay up a few hours late playing harmless pranks. We soaped a few storefronts. We made horrendous noises against neighbor windows with a notched spoon—and ran in panic.

There was a legend that "the old grouch" in the neighborhood was waiting for us with a shotgun stuffed with bacon rind, and that it stung something awful if he hit you. But somehow, if he did have the pork-filled gun, he never fired it. The last thing we did before going home was a brave gesture—throwing stones at the local abandoned "haunted house."

There was no real vandalism. The soaped windows could be cleaned with a razor blade and a little elbow grease.

But apparently even that small price became too much for some adults to pay for the thrill of youngsters got on their one night out. For now in many communities they have formal parades and parties to keep the kids in check. Store owners get the children to draw pictures on their windows with washable paint, and award prizes.

Trick Or Treat!

This may be art—but it isn't! Halloween. It puts childish fun in an adult harness on a night when the kids should be free.

I'd feel worse about it except I know that tonight there will come a knock on my door. When I open it I will see a group of little ragamuffins—girls in gypsy dress, boys in pirate regalia. Some will be masked, some will have cork-blackened faces.

"Trick or treat!" one will say sternly.

That means I must give them a quarter for a treat or they will play a trick on me—like banging me in the face with a sock full of flour. I'll pay.

After collecting their loot, the "evil spirits" will divide it, build a bonfire of orange crates in a side street and wonder if the bad old witch is circling overhead—just as their ancestors wondered.

It's a long way from the woods, but Halloween is still alive in the brick tenement forests of Manhattan. The kids won't give it up to the grownups here.

The largest North American rodent is the Beaver.

Bethany Crowded
For Reformation
Service Sunday

Bethany Ev. Lutheran church was filled to capacity and an overflow was accommodated in the church parlors for the united Reformation service held last evening. The speaker of the evening was Rev. Theo. E. Matson of Ebenezer Lutheran church, Chicago. A massed choir of 123 voices sang under the direction of Sam Ham with Mrs. F. M. Fernstrom, accompanist.

Pastor Matson spoke on the subject "The Faith We Declare." He pointed out that every age must reform its message in keeping with the faith of the early Apostolic Church. He pointed out that according to the book of Acts the characteristics of the early church were: steadfastness in faith, loyalty to the fellowship of believers, regular observance of the breaking of the bread, and a life of prayer. He said, "people cannot discover the church any more than they can discover their parents. Our culture is permeated by the Christian Faiths and even though they deny the faith they cannot get away from the heritage. Consequently we are members of the church whether we know it or not, either good or bad members."

Mr. Matson further pointed out that the church only can meet the forces of totalitarianism and communism. He said, "In Evangelical countries of the world the church has so permeated the people with a sense of truth and liberty that Communism has not been able to make any large inroads in those countries. In America we must be militantly evangelical to retain the liberties we hold dear."

Youth Service

At the Youth Service, held in the Bethel Evangelical Free Church in Gladstone at p. m., Rev. Matson spoke on the subject "Courtship and Marriage." He drew liberally from his experiences as a counselor in a large city church in Chicago. He drew further from his experiences in connection with the Cook County Court House; taking the young people on a trip, beginning at the office for marriage licenses; continuing to the civil marriage bureau; up the elevator to the floor where the divorce court is in constant session; and concluding at the court for juvenile delinquents.

Pastor Matson affirmed that we do not have juvenile delinquents. Our delinquents are the parents who did not properly prepare for marriage. He recommended that all young people should counsel with their pastor at least six months before their marriage.

Over 1,000 people were in attendance at the two services.

When civil liberties are protected at the expense of Democratic life there ceases to be civil liberty. —President Syngman Rhee of South Korea.

Made for each other this fall are fur-trimmed coats and companion dresses. A beaver collar trims the fitted coat of rust tweed, left, which tops a matching dress. "Mailman's pouch" pockets of beaver are a feature of the belted coat, right, which is ensembled with a matching dress of heather-colored tweed.

By EPSIE KINARD

NEA Fashion Editor

New York—(NEA)—Wedded this fall in a happy union of tweed are coats and dresses made for each other.

The new importance of casual clothes for daytime wear—worn until 5 o'clock when the little black frock comes on the scene—is underscored this fall by the fur-trimmed coat of tweed and its matching dress.

The tweed coat that takes fur often shows its preference for beaver. Beaver's silvery pile is tied scarf-style around the neckline of one full-length coat and on another is massed pockets as big as a mailman's pouch.

The beaver-pocket coat of heather tweed may be worn loose or belted with a brown snake-skin belt. Eisenberg, its designer, sembles it with a dress of matching tweed. The dress is simply tailored with unpressed skirt pleats, a round "jewelry neckline" and push-up sleeves.

The coat with the beaver scarf is made of rust-colored tweed; it is fitted and buttoned up with "knots" of antiqued gold. Eisenberg, the matchmaker, also teams this one with a classically tailored dress.

South Shore Ry. Is Reorganized

Two Railways Will Be Consolidated

Reorganization of the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic railway, commonly known as the South Shore, and its subsidiary, the Mineral Range railroad, which have been in bankruptcy since 1937, will be completed Nov. 1, Henry S. Mitchell of Minneapolis, chairman of the reorganization managers, announced today.

On that date, a new corporation, the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic railroad, will consolidate and take over the properties of the two predecessor roads, which include 555 miles of main line track, extending across Northern Wisconsin and Upper Michigan from Duluth-Superior to Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., and to St. Ignace on the Straits of Mackinac. The reorganization plan has been approved by the United States district court in Minneapolis, the interstate commerce commission and all affected groups of securities holders.

Capital structure of the new Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic railroad will consist of 210,000 shares of no-par common stock, with total stated value of $10,500,000; and $5,000,000 of contingent bonds, bearing interest at four per cent only if earned.

Lovell on Board

A board of nine directors has been approved by the reorganization managers. These directors are: R. S. Archibald, president, North Range Mining Co., Negaunee, Mich.; Endicott R. Lovell, president, Calumet & Hecla Consolidated Copper Co., Calumet, Mich.; Ward R. Schafer, vice president and general manager, Coolerator Co., Duluth; Peter N. Todhunter, lawyer, Chicago; N. R. Crump, vice president, and J. A. Dundas, treasurer, Canadian Pacific railway, Montreal; Henry S. Mitchell, 1125 First National-Soo Line Building, Minneapolis; Herman F. Schmidt, general superintendent, South Shore railroad, Marquette.

The directors on Nov. 1 will name officers to operate the road. The new company will continue to be affiliated with the Canadian Pacific railway, which will retain a major interest in its securities.

The new South Shore, however, will be operated as an independent railroad, under supervision of its own board of directors. Its executive offices will be in Minneapolis and its operating and traffic headquarters at Marquette, with on-line traffic offices also in Duluth-Superior and Sault Ste. Marie, Mich.

It will compete aggressively for freight business, particularly bridge line transcontinental traffic received from connecting railways at both east and west terminals. The new road will maintain off-line traffic offices which are now operated at Boston, Chicago, Cleveland, Detroit, New York, Pittsburgh, Portland, Seattle and Washington, D. C.

Improvements Expensive
The South Shore, a class I railroad, has been improved extensively during recent years. Tracks have been rebuilt on main lines and sidings and in yards. New cars and other equipment have been purchased and the road is making rapid progress toward complete Dieselization of its motive power.

Nine new Diesel locomotives already in road and switching service and four more are on order, including three two-unit road engines of 2,000 horsepower each. Acquisition of modern Diesel power has enabled the South Shore to speed transportation of bridge line traffic as well as freight shipments originated on its own lines.

In addition to Duluth, Superior, Marquette and Sault Ste. Marie, important points served by the main line are Ashland and Marquette, Wisconsin, and Nestoria, Mich. From Soo Junction, near

LECTURE HERE NOV. 2—Tom and Arlene Hadley will speak on "Arrowhead Waters" in the first of a series of illustrated lectures at the Wm. W. Oliver auditorium Wednesday evening, November 2. The Hiawathan Wildlife series is sponsored by the Wolverine Conservation club and the University of Michigan Extension Service.

Sault Ste. Marie, a line runs south to St. Ignace, Michigan, where a car ferry line, of which the South Shore is joint owner with the New York Central and Pennsylvania, connects it at Mackinaw City with those two roads.

From Nestoria, a line extends north to the copper and iron mining country of Michigan, serving Houghton, Hancock, Calumet and Lake Linden. At Sault Ste. Marie, Michigan, a bridge across the river connects the South Shore with the Canadian Pacific at Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario. At Duluth-Superior, the South Shore connects with major lines serving the Northwest.

'Buzzing' By Pilots Should Be Reported

Washington, (SS)—The United States government wants help in spotting reckless airplane pilots who "buzz" various objects and engage in other hazardous flying stunts. Procedures for reporting, in which the public is asked to participate, were announced here today by the Civil Aeronautics Administration. They were drawn up cooperatively by CAA and the Armed Services, with help from commercial aviation.

Anyone who observes an airplane buzzing houses, people or other aircraft should report by telephone to the nearest CAA office, and confirm the telephone report by a letter to the same office, D. W. Rentzel, administrator of CAA, states. All details should be given, including particularly the registration number of the offending craft. This is displayed on the left half of the lower surface of the wing, and on the vertical tail surface.

MAYOR DISLIKES HIS JOB

Aberdeen, Idaho (AP)—The mayor of this potato town of 1,500 people doesn't like the job—he'd rather farm. Keeping pigs out is one of the troubles of Mayor James Chapman, 58. It's against the law to raise 'em in town.

"This stuff of telling people what to do isn't in my line," Chapman said. "I'm not cut out to have all that power." But Aberdeen, where there are more churches than filling stations, insisted that Chapman take a second two-year term. He said "people just figured I'd be able to devote more time to the mayor's job than anyone else." His salary is $75 a year.

New Chewing Gums Will Protect Teeth

Palm Springs, Calif. (AP)—A gum chew a day will keep the dentist away.

This may be the slogan of new chewing gums which will be on the market within a month, says Dr. Robert G. Kesel, professor of dentistry at the University of Illinois and developer of ammoniated dentifrices.

Dr. Kesel told 200 fellow dentists at the sixth annual dental medicine seminar here that the new gum will contain diastatic ammonium phosphate and urea. They are the bacteria killing ingredients found in many new tooth pastes and powders.

After all, you can't build a locomotive in a cottage.

—Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru of India, referring to India's "cottage industry."

Logger Kills Young Estranged Wife For Laughing At Him

Leavenworth, Wash. (AP)—A 28-year-old unemployed logger told authorities he shot and killed his young estranged wife because she passed him on the street without speaking and "laughed at me."

The 20-year-old wife, hit by five bullets, died on the sidewalk. Prosecutor Robert E. Conner said a signed confession was obtained from the man, George Washington Stinnett.

Stinnett is being held without charge in the Chelan county jail.

He and his wife, Dovey Whistman Stinnett, had been separated since last May, three months after the birth of their only child.

Conner said Stinnett told this story:

He was talking with an old man in front of a tavern in this little cascade mountain town when his wife came walking down the street with her sister. She didn't speak, just looked at him and laughed.

He whipped out a .22 caliber revolver he had obtained from his wife's brother and fired five bullets into her.

Police Chief Warns Parents

They Will Have To Pay For Pranks

Chief of Police Roy Anderson, in anticipating the general run of petty Halloween mischief this evening is issuing a warning that the city will be well policed and that destruction of property will not be tolerated.

He warned particularly against such mischief as setting up barriers across city streets. There is nothing funny about such mischief he says. It can result in wrecking of cars and causing serious injury or death to motorists.

Chief Anderson's warning, however, is directed chiefly against parents of youngsters. It is not the duty of the police, he says, to keep track of children. If youngsters get into destructive mischief, the law will step in and the parents will have to pay the bill. It is the parents' duty to see that their children are home and in bed at a reasonable hour.

Historic Church Fireplace Found

Philadelphia (P)—An old colonial fireplace that once was part of the First Reformed German church in this country has been uncovered in a long unused storage loft, one-time site of the church. Now the Reformed and Evangelical church, it was founded in 1727 in a barn. In 1772 it began the erection of an enlarged church.

During the Revolutionary War the Race Street Reformed church, as it then was known, had an honorable part in the struggle of the colonists for independence. When the British captured Philadelphia and their troops marched by the church, the ten-year-old son of the pastor, the Rev. Dr. Casper Dienich Weyberg, stood on the doorstep and shouted: "hurrah for George Washington!"

The Hessians imprisoned Dr. Weyberg and used the church as a hospital. In 1837, the city contributed $15,200 to renovate the church as a historic shrine.

Tragedies Wipe Out Kalamazoo Family; Lone Widow Insane
Kalamazoo, Mich.—(P)—Tragedy has completed the destruction of 28-year-old Bill Freeman's little family.
Just three weeks ago Bill, his wife, Robinette, and two young sons were preparing to move into a new house.
Then the young husband returned from his railroad job one morning to find Robinette had slashed both children to death with a celery knife.
A psychiatric board ruled her insane this week.
Thursday morning Freeman, making a run as brakeman on a train carrying farm produce from Hooper to Kalamazoo, was injured fatally when the locomotive lurched over a 20-foot embankment.
Freeman, although badly burned, worked for an hour to remove the body of Engineer Harry L. Kelley, the wreck's other victim, from the cab where it was pinned. Finally other workers took him to Bronson hospital, where he died several hours later.

Brothers Hurt In Plane Crash

Craft Hits Power Line At Lakefield

Newberry Special)—Two brothers were injured, one critically, when their light plane crashed after hitting a power line near Lakefield Saturday afternoon.

Daniel Kenney, 34, was piloting the plane from Detroit, accompanied by his brother, Victor, 31. They were planning to visit their father, Earl Kenney, of Lakefield. When they arrived at Lakefield, Daniel swooped the plane low to buzz the father's house. The plane, a Taylorcraft, struck a power line and the plane crashed three-quarters of a mile from the family home, near highway M-98.

Victor sustained a spine fracture and serious internal injuries. Daniel sustained cuts and lacerations but his condition is not critical.

The two men were taken to Tahquamenon General hospital in Newberry.

Armed Posse Hunts Fugitive Gunman In Foothills Of Ozarks

Beebe, Ark., Oct. 31 (AP)—An armed posse today tackled the rugged Ozark foothills in a search for a gunman who may be Jack Tatum, 26, the lone fugitive from a daring jailbreak at Phoenix, Ariz.

The manhunt was launched yesterday after a farmer identified an early morning caller as Tatum, one of five desperadoes who smashed their way out of the jail Oct. 22.

Several Arkansas state troopers, peace officers and armed citizens combed the rugged hill country nearby for hours yesterday. The search was called off last night because of darkness.

Two blood hounds flown here from the Arkansas Penal farm at Cummins, Ark., were to join the search today. Beebe is about 32 miles northeast of Little Rock.

Deputy Sheriff Mack Edwards said the farmer, Bennie Huff, gave a stranger breakfast early yesterday. Huff, who described the man "as a tough character," later told officers the man was carrying a pistol.

Edwards said Huff identified the man as Tatum from an FBI information circular.

Five inmates crashed out of the Phoenix jail cell in a break for freedom. Two prisoners were shot down in a gun battle with officers; two others surrendered. Only Tatum escaped. He crawled out a window.

Canadians Knock Wings Out Of First

Detroit, Oct. 31 (AP)—The Montreal Canadiens, who haven't had much luck lately in winning games or getting goals, got their share of both last night at the expense of the Detroit Red Wings.

The Canadiens had a pretty sad record going into last night's game. They had gone four games without a win and hadn't scored a goal in their last three times out.

But all that was changed as the Canadian team stunned the Red Wings and 13,682 Olympia fans with a 4-1 victory.

Spartans Start Preparing For Irish Invasion

East Lansing, Oct. 31 (AP)—The Michigan State football team started preparing today for its sixth and last home stand, the meeting with mighty Notre Dame Saturday.

While the Irish were walloping Navy 40-0 this weekend, the Spartans also were showing off their scoring power by beating Temple 62-14.

Temple drew first blood by recovering a Michigan State fumble on the MSC 46. The Owls pushed down to go over in 10 plays.

But Michigan State quickly

Admiral Sherman May Be Chief Of Naval Operations

By ELTON C. FAY
Washington, Oct. 31 (AP)—Vice Admiral Forrest P. Sherman headed today for Washington, bolstering speculation that he will be picked to succeed Adm. Louis Denfeld as chief of Naval operations.

The commander of the Sixth Task Force in the Mediterranean has been mentioned prominently for the job from which Denfeld was ousted. He has stayed on the sidelines in the armed services scrap which brought Denfeld's removal.

Sherman left his fleet at Beirut, Lebanon, and boarded a Pan-American Airliner for the flight to this country. Officials at London headquarters of U. S. naval forces in the Eastern Atlantic and Mediterranean said he had been ordered to return to the capital.

An announcement on Denfeld's successor as well as a decision on whether Denfeld will retire or accept a lesser assignment is expected soon.

Vienna Occupies Strategic Spot

Four Powers Have Voice In Control

By JOSEPH A. DEAR

Vienna—Austria's capital is today the frontier listening post of the western democracies. Well behind the Iron Curtain, it's surrounded on all sides by Communist controlled territory.

Like Berlin, which lies to the northwest, Vienna is a four-power city. United States, Russia, England, and France have an equal voice in government. Unlike Berlin, four-power cooperation here continues at least to a degree just permitting effective administration. True, Russia blocks the signing of an Austrian peace treaty; true, the Soviet Zone of Austria, in which Vienna lies, is severed from the rest of the country; true, more than 500 Austrians have completely disappeared after being swept up by the Russian police.

But the corridor connecting the United States zone of Austria with Vienna has never been closed, and the representatives of the major powers meet at regular intervals to discuss administrative problems.

ECA Much Discussed
By now the presence of Americans, Russians, English, and French is old hat to the Viennese. To them, the question of what will happen after the occupying powers leave is of consuming interest. Then, no longer will exist an incentive for the People's Party and the Socialists to work together. The Socialists remember the days when the Iron Chancellor Dollfuss ringed their quarter of Vienna with cannons. The bitterness engendered then made it easier for the Nazis to seize this little Alpine state. The demarcation line between the two parties is firmly drawn: the Catholic church, the wealthy businessmen, and the farmers are almost entirely behind the People's Party; the Socialists draw their support from the industrial workers.

In the innumerable coffee houses, the most important influence in Austria is unquestionably ECA. Without the funds supplied by the United States, Austria's standard of living would probably fall by a third. Since the average wage today is about $30 a month, such a fall would be catastrophic. It might easily open the way for the Communists.

Goods Are Cheap
For Americans with dollars, Vienna seems too good to be true. It is easily the least expensive country in Europe. The best seats at the opera, a sumptuous dinner with excellent wine and music, much less than five dollars. But for most, that is much too much.

But even so, members of the American colony in Vienna have little liking for the city. The American correspondents regularly stationed here probably constitute the most morose and deplorable group of writers anywhere in the world. They live for the day the Austrian peace treaty is signed, and hope they then will be reassigned to other pastures.

It was in 1946 that the four occupying powers pledged themselves to assist the Austrian government to create a sound and democratic national life based on stable economic and financial conditions. Some people contend the day of the peace treaty cannot be far off. But there are solid reasons for supposing Russia will never actually sign. To begin with, Austria is a good bargaining point. Russia seemingly made concessions about Austria during the last Big Four meeting. These concessions have yet to become reality.

Russian reluctance to abandon Austria probably bears a high positive correlation to the military importance of Vienna. It is the key military city of Europe, controlling the historic gap between the Alps and the Carpathian Mountains. That is the classic route for the barbarian invaders of Europe. From their present positions, the Russians could seize Vienna in short order.

But the Soviet does not make itself painfully obvious in Vienna. Red Army soldiers are apparently confined to their barracks after they finish duty. Occasionally the Viennese see a pair of Soviet soldiers strolling down the street. Invariably they carry arms; a carbine, a sub-machine gun, or a pistol. American MP's warn tourists not to photograph these soldiers without first obtaining permission. The lowest Russian enlisted man, in his rather sloppy uniform, considers himself a military installation. Snapping his picture can be dangerous. At the very least he will insist the film be destroyed.

The search for Williams began several weeks ago, shortly after General Eisenhower mailed out autographed copies of his book, "Crusade in Europe." The mailing list included Williams and other members of the general's personal staff.

Williams' copy of the book was mailed to Dallas, Tex., where he enlisted. But Williams had left Dallas and the book was returned. General Eisenhower, now president of Columbia University, then asked his aide, Maj. Robert L. Schultz, to take up the search. Major Schultz wrote the National Association of Combat Units in Washington.

News of the request narrowed the search to Chicago through a friend of Williams in Dallas, and Williams was found Saturday night at work in the post office.

Said Williams: "General Eisenhower is about the most perfect man I've ever known—event tempered and considerate."

31 STILL UNBEATEN
New York, Oct. 31 (AP)—Thirty-four college football teams remained on the unbeaten, untied list today. The weekend took its toll of seven, Pennsylvania's 22-21 loss to Pittsburgh being the most important. It was the Quakers' first setback in five games.

When the presidential fact-finding board renders its report and recommendations after Labor Day, it will be up to both sides to show us that collective bargaining plus public interest on a give-and-take basis is still a stirring and strong symbol of American democracy at work.

She was wearing a white fur coat when she left, and has a German accent.

Seek Offender—Escanaba police are cooperating with the Menominee county sheriff's department to apprehend John Zolmierski, 41, of Menominee. Menominee enforcement officials hold a warrant for his arrest on a charge of assault with intent to rape. He is five feet, six inches tall, weighs 145 pounds, and was wearing a brown hat, brown trousers and a leather jacket when last seen. He has a dark complexion.

Pine Ridge PTA—A Halloween party for adults and children will be held tonight at the Pine Ridge school. The party is sponsored by the Pine Ridge PTA.

Girl Scouts Talk
To Rotary Club On Value Of Program

The Escanaba Rotary club at its meeting today noon at the Delta hotel heard a discussion on the value of the Girl Scout program by a panel of Girl Scouts, with Donna Knutsen as moderator. Other members of the panel were Betty Lieper, Katherine Walch and Mary Larson.

Other business of the meeting included the induction of a new member, Leonard C. Reynolds, superintendent of the Peninsula division, Chicago & North Western railroad, who is a former Rotarian from Norfolk, Nebraska.

Committees of the club met at separate tables for a discussion of committee program for the rest of the year, and in discussion there was an exchange of ideas for committee functions.

It was reported by the Boy Scout committee that plans are being made to send a member of the Rotary sponsored troop to the national Boy Scout jamboree at Valley Forge next July. Ed Kot, district Scout executive, guest at the meeting, said that each Scout unit is invited to send a representative to the jamboree.

Rock Climaxes Big Year With 52 To 0 Win Over Eagle B's

Rock, Oct. 31 (Special)—The Rock high school football team climaxed a very successful season by trouncing the Stephenson B team, 52-0, Friday. It has not lost a game since dropping a 7-0 tilt to Bark River-Harris in the opener, and in that game it held a one-sided statistical margin.

Rock has had only two touchdowns scored against it all season. After bowing to the Barks, the Rocks wallopped John D. Pierce, 58-0; Gladstone B by 25-0; Marquette B by 41-0; J. D. Pierce at Marquette by 38-6; Bark River by 6-0 in a return game in which it got revenge and Stephenson B by 52-0.

Bill Westlund scored five touchdowns for Rock against the Eagle reserves, all on passes from Charles Lee two for 45, one for 40, one for 30 and another for 13 yards and a TD. Onnie Kuljo scored two TD's on three-yard plunges and Lee went two yards for his counter.

Onnie Kuljo gained 69 yards by rushing but his brother, Martin, was only eight yards behind. Bernard LeClaire gained 41 and led hit 32.

Rock completed seven of 11 passes and made 15 first downs. Stephenson completed two of 11 and made only two first downs. Rock gained 199 yards by rushing. Stephenson lost 20.

Only 20 boys reported for football at Rock early this fall. Injuries took a toll and only 16 and 17 were available most of the season. Ronnie Kaminen served the group as student manager. Members of the Rock team are
